Agenda tab not hard to find but no recent agendas: latest posting is Jan. 2016

All they have a listing with the FOIA contact person; you click on that and it loads an email blank to her but no further information; no info on how to file, etc.

Meetings: no convenient listing of meeting times. By looking at the agenda listing under 'Information Library' you could find out what day and time meetings are. I just happened to look at the most recent minutes posted (Oct. 2015) and saw they have changed to quarterly meetings. That information was not on the county Metro Peoria website entry under committees or on the Metro website.

SPECIAL NOTE: After the grading we realized that this committee by its nature does not have a budget or audit of its own, and thus is not really fairly graded. However, we did feel the other categories surveyed were fair and chose to leave it in the overall project.

Geared to people searching for times/days for activities, not toward transparency

To speak, need to ask administration ahead of time to be put on agenda.

This website is one of most incomplete government websites that I have visited...

Meeting location: Somewhat unclear what the Education and Administration Center was as no street address given

Dislike that paid ads display ahead of in-site results.

Of all the sites I visited, the Morton School site was the most welcoming for users trying to find out how the Board operates and how to interact with the Board.

Nice RSS feed of school announcements, up-to-date photo gallery on Flickr, Social media presence with up-to-date information.

The agendas and the minutes do not indicate that there is even any opportunity for public comments.

Hate seeing advertising.

Seriously lag meetings with minutes last posted for 11/23/2015 meeting

Meeting location: No street address, you would have to know the Administration building contains the board room and is located on Wisconsin

Surveyor comments

Despite the good survey results, after the surveys were completed I noticed that a special meeting I'd heard about was not on the calendar on the City's website. After much digging after the meeting, I did find it buried deeper on a City Council page. Probably was just a clerical error, or maybe they wanted to minimize public participation?

Really engaging website, aesthetically pleasing and user friendly.

Nice web site, wish the public comment at meetings would be moved to beginning of meeting so you could speak to an issue before they vote without having to know a council member.

Nice looking. Some things like Unified Work Plan annual budget are a couple years behind but then they have been through a lot.

Minutes posted: but seems some committees are behind or at least the most recent minutes were still 2015

Not even clear when public comments are from the agenda

Nice budget cycle page at the top of the budget page

Lots of info for students but seems minimal for outside public interests regarding the board and curriculum
