"As an artist, I knew that, even if I never got anything out of it, at least I'd had it inside of me.... Right now, I feel like I did when I was 18 years old. I love it. If I don't do anything else the rest of my life, I'll feel like I've achieved something."

This modern abstraction of a Victorian-era woman embodies the century-long female struggle for equal rights in our society. Women's determination and optimism pioneered change in a male-dominated world. The opening through the head represents an understanding of the past and a vision of the future.

YOU ARE INVITED!
